Dulles Hopeful For Real Start To Disarming

Secretary Flies To London Talks At Ike's Request

LONDON, July 29 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said tonight the United States is hopeful some practical beginning to disarmament can be made soon by the East and West.

Dulles flew to London at President Eisenhower's request to judge the progress of the snail-paced negotiations in the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee and to appraise the prospects of a limited accord.

He emphasized the importance to world peace of Eisenhower's "open skies" inspection plan for reducing the danger of surprise attacks. The stress he placed on it appeared to be especially significant.

Plan Launched In 1955

The secretary reminded airport newsmen in a prepared statement the President's plan was launched at the Geneva Big Four summit conference two years ago and added:

"Every month that passes without agreement magnifies the problem of disarmament."

"Now we are engaged in negotiations toward a first step agreement which will include measures to reduce the danger of surprise attack."

"The United States is hopeful, as is all the world, that some practical beginning can soon be made. If it is demonstrated that the danger of surprise attack can be and will be reduced, it should be more possible to make progress in reducing the burden of armaments and solving the grave political problems which endanger peace."

East-West Gap Wide

Western diplomats have been saying for two or three weeks they have little or no hope that the subcommittee—made up of representatives of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and Soviet Russia—will produce any effective agreement soon to disarm. The gap between Russia and the West on several basic issues seems too wide.

These diplomats have suggested, however, there may still be a good chance of agreement between the Eastern and Western power blocs on measures to guard against surprise attacks.

Reform Forces Score Victory In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, July 29 (AP)—Moderate forces backing constitutional reform and supporting provisional President Pedro Aramburu clinched a majority of seats today in the new Argentine Constituent Assembly.

With countrywide counting of the vote in Sunday's election nearly complete, the moderates seemed assured of 119 seats in the 205-member Assembly.

The Assembly meets Sept. 1 to consider amending the 1853 constitution in order to curb presidential powers as a means of preventing dictatorships such as that of ex-President Juan D. Peron.

In the face of defeat, two pro-Peron weeklies rushed out special editions claiming a Peron triumph and calling for a general strike to repudiate the Assembly.

From his exile in Venezuela, Peron had claimed he had the support of 75 per cent of the population.

A total of 32 parties took part. The largest vote for any single one went to the Popular Radicals. They took more than 25 per cent. Other moderate parties, backing constitutional reform and Aramburu policies, garnered substantial votes.

A leftist wing of the Radicals led by Arturo Frondizi, who wooed Peron supporters with an anti-reform platform, finished dead in the field.

Popular Radical Leader Ricardo Balbin, an old foe of Peron, claimed a complete victory for the constitutional reformists over the Peronistas and the anti-reform group led by Frondizi.

Counting of ballots took place under a complicated system of proportional representation.

While Peronistas were banned as candidates, the voting showed Peron still has substantial support. The blank votes for him, however, were many less than the five million Peron predicted a few days ago he would get.

DENVER, July 29 (AP)—Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower arrived here today for a five-day visit in her old home city.

The presidential plane, Columbine III, brought Mrs. Eisenhower from Washington to participate in the dedication of Mamie Dole Eisenhower Park in south Denver Thursday.

Robert Anderson Takes Over As Treasury Boss

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—Robert B. Anderson, who had a rough time financing the purchase of a $12 suit for his graduation from law school, today took charge of the vast and complex financial problems of the federal government.

The 47-year-old Anderson, a former Texas Democrat, was sworn in as secretary of the Treasury in a brief White House ceremony. In the cabinet room, President Eisenhower held the Bible on which Anderson placed his hand as Judge Warren Burger of the U.S. Court of Appeals administered the oath.

The new cabinet officer succeeds George M. Humphrey, 67, who is returning to private industry after 4½ years as a strong man in the Eisenhower cabinet.

In a statement issued after the ceremony, Anderson said, "The most I can do is pledge that I will do my utmost to serve as

Western Allies Sign Pledge On German Unity

BERLIN, July 29 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France offered today to discuss German unification with the Soviet Union when there is a "reasonable prospect of making progress."

The Western allies also promised Germans they do not plan any disarmament deal with the Russians that could interfere with uniting divided Germany.

These were among the key points in a declaration signed here by the big three ambassadors and by West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano. As they signed, the big American-donated freedom bell rang out over this divided city. The bell was given to honor the courage of West Berliners in the Soviet blockade of 1948-9.

The declaration will take some of the effectiveness out of any political hawking that Soviet Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev may attempt during a visit to East Germany next month.

Western officials believe Khrushchev, who is to be accompanied by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, may attempt to influence the Sept. 15 West German elections from various East German platforms.

Referring to questions involving German unification, the declaration said:

"The Western powers are ready to discuss all these questions with the Soviet Union at any time that there is a reasonable prospect of making progress."

And in an apparent reference to the London disarmament talks, the declaration pledged: "The Western powers do not intend to enter into any agreement on disarmament which would prejudice the reunification of Germany."

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, a stern foe of Soviet efforts to wean West Germany from the Atlantic alliance, faces a stiff electoral challenge from the powerful Socialist Party. One of the key issues in the campaign is whether the West might sign a disarmament agreement with the Russians that could leave Germany divided indefinitely.

Mexico Digs Out Of Quake

Few Of Tourist Sights Harmed; Death Toll 46

MEXICO CITY, July 29 (AP)—Mexicans tackled demolition work in businesslike fashion today and weighed the damage wrought on one of their chief tourist attractions by Sunday's quake.

Leaning walls were knocked over and bulldozers plowed through mountains of mortar to clear away debris.

The known death toll stood at 46. Estimates of the injured rose as high as 650.

The Tourist Bureau, interested in maintaining the flow of visitors from the United States and elsewhere, hastened to issue a statement that all was calm. It said few of the tourist sights had been damaged and that hotels, restaurants and transportation were about normal.

But tourists may brace themselves for a few changes.

Peace And Calm Missing

The peace and calm they expect in a Latin-American country will be missing in Mexico City as it bustles about to repair damage to buildings, homes, churches and streets. Prices may go up a bit. Hotel service may be somewhat under par for a while. For example, the new Continental Hilton, badly damaged, is cutting down on its guest accommodations as it repairs plumbing and decorations on the upper floors.

The graceful golden angel pictured atop a slender 150-foot column in almost every Mexican tourist folder was tumbled and shattered by the quake. That angel, on Mexico's Statue of Liberty, will be the greatest tourist loss.

Mexico City's other major attractions were unharmed.

The quake, the most violent in the memory of residents of central Mexico, did nothing to the centuries-old pyramids.

The Xochimilco Floating Gardens, also centuries old, may have a few boats damaged, but the gardens are unharmed and in operation.

Ancient Cathedral Survives

The ancient cathedral sagged a bit more, but a few minor repairs will fix it. Chapultepec Castle escaped with a few broken windows. Sanborn's reports no major loss to its three restaurants and stores, which lure many tourists.

The ultramodern university city survived its first quake test.

New Yorkers who like to point out the penthouse offices of their former mayor, William O'Dwyer, will miss that. The 14-story building it topped was dangerously damaged and may be abandoned.

The hotels of Acapulco, resort city on the Pacific, may be a bit like those in Mexico City, noisy with repairs, fewer accommodations and maybe some price hikes. But, though the sea recoiled 30 feet from the beaches when the quake struck, the damage there was slight by comparison.

The Roman Catholic Church ordered services throughout the stricken area. Special Masses were held for the dead and injured and thanks offered for those who escaped.

ROCHELLE, Ga., July 29 (AP)—An enraged farmer bit off the ear of a government credit agent during an inspection of his farm. Sheriff F. E. Jenkins reported today.

The victim was Ray S. Stephens, 43, county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration, which makes loans to farmers.

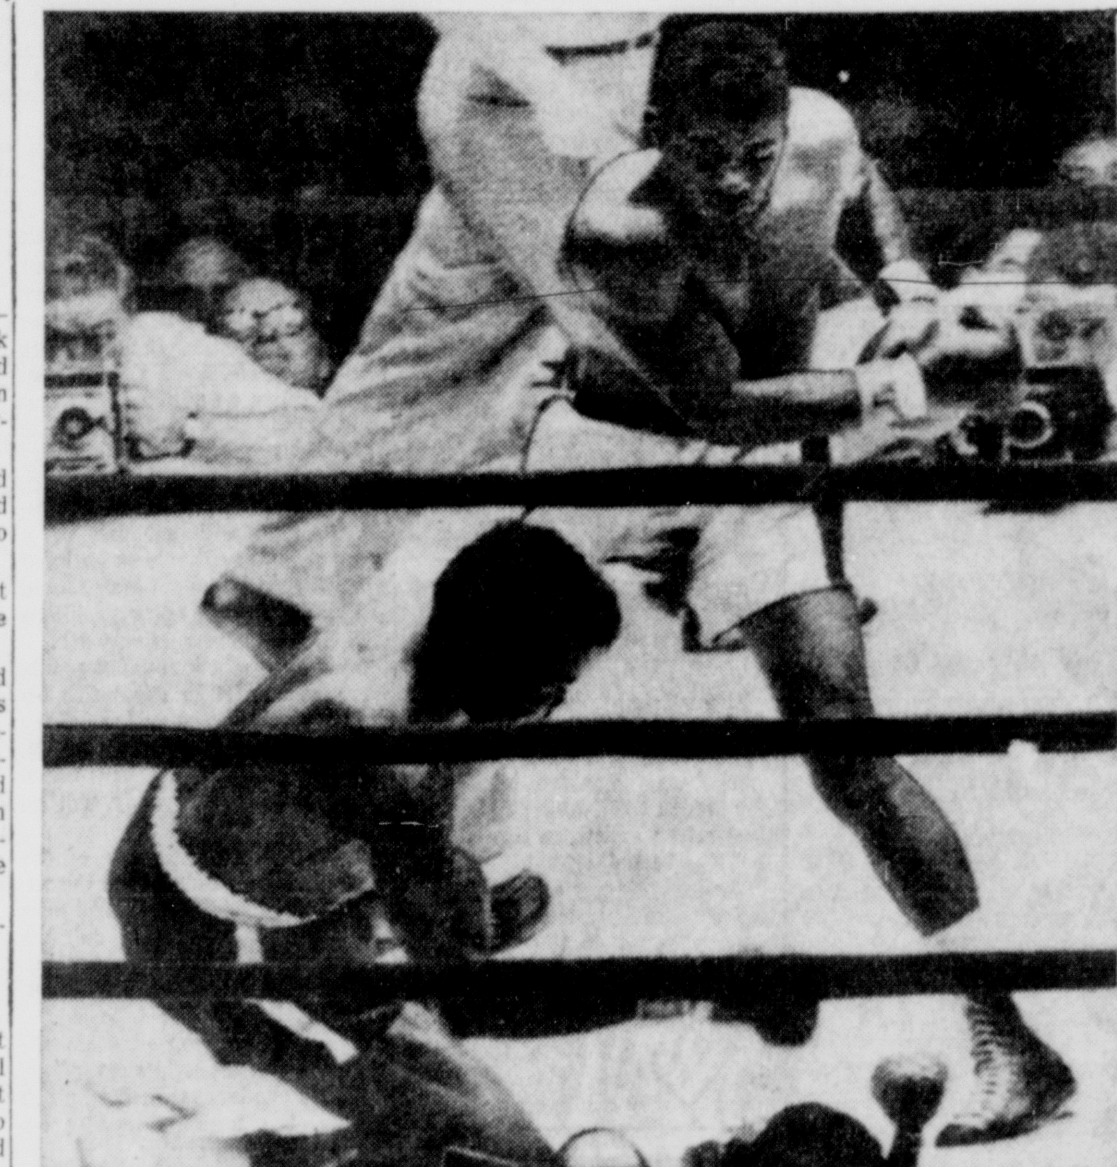

Abner W. Wheeler, the farmer, was jailed on a mayhem charge after the incident Thursday. Jenkins said, and was released yesterday in $500 bond.

In Atlanta, F. F. Dowis, administrative officer for the FHA, added these details: Stephens visited the Wheeler farm on a routine inspection trip. Wheeler began cursing and making threats without provocation, and struck Stephens on the cheek. The two struggled and fell and while on the ground Wheeler caught Stephens's left ear with his teeth and ripped it off.

Dowis said Wheeler had borrowed FHA funds.

Ike Signs Pact Enrolling U.S. In Atom Agency

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed today a pact enrolling the United States as a member of the projected 80-nation International Atomic Energy Agency.

The action opens the way for the President to enter into agreements with the IAEA under which uranium 235 will be made available for worldwide distribution for power development and other peaceful uses.

The international agency developed out of Eisenhower's "Atoms for peace" proposals of 1953. It will be established formally later in the year.

Eisenhower affixed his signature at a ceremony in the White House rose garden. More than 25 officials including members of Congress and of the Atomic Energy Commission, attended.

The United States was the 22nd nation to ratify the agreement.

The treaty was to become effective when ratified by three of the atomic powers. Britain and Russia already had ratified, so the President's signature brought the world organization into existence.

Still pending in Congress is a bill to implement and spell out details of American participation. The administration got a sharp setback June 19 when the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee voted to require prior consent of Congress for each transfer of U.S. fissionable material to the IAEA.

The treaty authorizing U.S. membership in the agency was ratified by the Senate, 67-19, the day before.

"Bull" Halsey Suffers Stroke

NEW YORK, July 29 (AP)—Retired Fleet Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey Jr., 74, was admitted to Doctors Hospital today after he suffered a stroke. His chances of recovery were listed as "indefinite."

Halsey was vacationing on Fishers Island, N.Y., when he was stricken in mid-afternoon Sunday. He was brought to his New York home where his physician recommended hospitalization.

He commanded the U.S. Third Fleet in the Pacific in World War II. He retired from the Navy April 1, 1947.

It was aboard Halsey's flagship, the U.S.S. Missouri in Tokyo Bay, that the Japanese formally accepted unconditional surrender to end World War II.

Halsey led the first big naval offensive of the Pacific war in 1942 when he struck at the Marshall and Gilbert Islands. He was in command of the naval force from which then Lt. Col. James H. Doolittle led an Army bomber mission against Tokyo in 1942, one of the great morale strikes of the war.

Dr. Sam's Defense Counsel Convinced Wedler Is "Guilty"

Attorney To File Ohio Murder Charge Against Convict If He Signs Statement

DELAND, Fla., July 29 (AP)—A Cleveland attorney said today he will file murder charges in Ohio against Donald J. Wedler if the 23-year-old Florida convict signs a statement saying he killed Marilyn Sheppard.

"I think this guy did it," said William Corrigan after talking to Wedler today.

Corrigan, chief defense counsel for Dr. Samuel Sheppard who is serving a life sentence for his wife's death, told newsmen:

"The confession of this man fits in with so many of the details with which we are familiar and convinces us beyond doubt that Donald Joseph Wedler is guilty of that murder."

"We plan to move immediately in the state of Ohio to bring this case to a successful conclusion."

Asked by a reporter how he justified his position in view of a statement by two Cleveland officers who last week said they considered Wedler's confession a hoax, Corrigan said:

"They obviously came down here with their minds made up."

His assistant, Fred Garmone, said "the Cleveland police came down here to find out a few little things of no consequence and then went home. All they did was gather a few items of no real consequence."

James E. McArthur, Cleveland chief of detectives during the investigation which led to Sheppard's conviction, said after talking to Wedler last week:

Queen Serves Hot Dogs, 'Burgers To U.S. Jurists

LONDON, July 29 (AP)—The rules of protocol were shattered on Buckingham Palace's royal lawns today. Queen Elizabeth II served hot dogs and hamburgers to members of the American Bar Assn.

"We recall no time in history," said a palace spokesman, "when such typically American items were served at a palace garden party."

A palace official intimated the idea of providing red-hot dogs and burgers was the Queen's and Prince Phillip's.

"Her majesty sought to provide a pleasant surprise," he explained. But if the Queen smashed protocol by departing from the usual menu of sandwiches and cakes with tea, the lawyers from America broke a few rules too. They smoked all over the 42 acres of lawn — something that guests to the Queen's garden parties are not supposed to do. Some of the visiting lawyers even puffed on pipes and chewed cigars. Demo Leader Acts To Trim Big Backlog

Johnson Will Ask Senate To Clear Up Other Matters

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—Majority Leader Johnson (D-Tex.) announced tonight he is going to ask the Senate to lay aside the civil rights bill for a day or two and tackle a backlog of other legislative business.

He will need a unanimous consent agreement to accomplish this. Johnson said he proposed to try for the agreement tomorrow. If he gets it, it will permit consideration of a long list of presidential nominations and final action on such other pending matters as the Defense Department and agricultural appropriations for the next fiscal year, which started July 1.

The Senate has been debating civil rights for the last three weeks. At least two more weeks of argument are in prospect, and it may last longer if southern Democrats elect to filibuster against the legislation.

175 Bills Backed Up

Meanwhile 175 bills are backed up on the Senate calendar, including five appropriations measures. Most of the bills are of a minor nature, however, and can be passed by unanimous consent.

Earlier in the day, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) had challenged the southerners to get going with a filibuster.

"If there is a filibuster, I am in favor of having it now and fighting it out, rather than postponing it, even if it takes until September to get this measure passed," the GOP leader told newsmen.

Knowland heads a loose coalition of Republicans and northern Democrats fighting for civil rights legislation.

He predicted the Senate would defeat a pending amendment to write a broad jury trial provision into the bill.

Coalition Ready For Test

Some additional Republicans and Democrats lined up over the weekend in opposition to any such amendment. Knowland said, and the coalition is ready for a test vote at any time.

It had been expected that a vote on the jury trial amendment—the biggest remaining issue in the civil rights fight—might come today or tomorrow. But Senate maneuvering indicated a roll call may be delayed.

Knowland said he didn't anticipate any further statement from President Eisenhower on the legislation. This made it appear that administration forces in the Senate are now on their own to get the best terms they can for the bill.

Knowland disputed the idea that if the jury trial amendment is defeated it will be more difficult to get a final Senate vote on the bill which the House passed June 18. It was then he said he is ready to meet a southern attempt to talk the bill to death in a filibuster.

The Senate is entering the fourth week of its debate on the legislation. In this period the bill has been reduced from one providing for enforcement of civil rights in every field to one limited to the protection of voting rights.

Sex Offender Pleads Innocent To Murder

BROCKTON, Mass., July 29 (AP)—Raymond F. Ohlson, 20-year-old convicted sex offender, pleaded innocent today to murder charges in the brutal slaying of two devoted young brothers in a woodland glen.

Innocent pleas are mandatory in capital cases under Massachusetts law.

Ohlson was held without bond by Judge Maurice J. Murphy in Brockton District Court. The case was continued to Aug. 8.

Ohlson is charged with stabbing repeatedly John Logan, 12, and his brother, Edward, 11, Friday after forcing them at knife-point into woods from a public pond.

Light Wisconsin Vote Expected

MILWAUKEE, July 29 (AP)—Wisconsin selects nominees for the unexpired term of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R) tomorrow, amid indications that citizens are more interested in farm harvesting or vacations than in voting.

Only about 25 per cent of the 2,200,000 eligible voters are expected to turn out for the primary.

On the Republican ballot will be seven candidates, while two Democrats are seeking their party's nomination for the election Aug. 27. The election will be for the term which expires in January, 1959.

Wisconsin's economy is geared to agriculture and the vacation business. Harvesting of oats is at full swing as is the tourist trade. These labors, plus the shortness of the primary campaign and considerably apathy among city people, hint a very light vote.

Because of the expected turnout, political observers have been cautious in their appraisal of the results. Four Republican candidates all are given a chance, with former Gov. Walter J. Kohler and former Rep. Glenn R. Davis believed to be the frontrunners.

In the two-man Democratic primary, three-time candidate for governor William Proxmire is regarded as an easy winner over Milwaukee Rep. Clement Zablocki.

'Less Burdensome' National Debt Declining Slowly, Senators Told

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—Last week the Treasury offered Randolph Burgess, under secretary of the Treasury, said today the national debt has declined $251 per capita in the last 10 years.

"Even though the dollar amount of debt is not declining as much as we might wish," he told the Senate Finance Committee, "the debt still becomes somewhat less burdensome."

Burgess said that on June 30 the debt amounted to $1,581 for every person in the country, as compared with $1,632 in December 1946. The latest figure on the total, as of July 24, showed the debt at $272,958,852,759.31.

The Finance Committee, which is conducting a general study of government money policies, has heard from a number of Democrats who maintain the administration has encouraged high interest rates.

Burgess termed this a successful operation, but conceded that it would add 250 million dollars annually to interest charges on the national debt.

In calling this a successful deal, Burgess said:

"The cash turn-in on this refunding (preliminary figures) was the smallest percentage of publicly held maturities turned in for cash of any refinancing since March a year ago."

"Furthermore, we succeeded in selling 2½ billion dollars of the new four-year notes, again helping to keep the debt from shortening."

The American Legion was organized in Paris, France, back in 1919.

Special Session Block Appears

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 29 (AP)—The prospect of confirming a long list of appointments by Gov. Underwood appeared today to be the only block to a one-day session of the Legislature next Monday.

The governor called the special session to approve changes in legislation on the bonus for Korean veterans, so that bonds to finance the bonus may be sold.

He also must submit to the State Senate a list of all his appointments made since the regular 1957 Legislature ended its session last March.

Senate President Ralph J. Bean (D-Hardy) commented today that the governor would submit a list of 72 appointments for confirmation. The governor's office, asked about the list, said there would be "at least that many."

"The only thing that worries me," Bean remarked, "is the list of appointments up for confirmation. We have been unable to get the list so far. The Senate can't go over the list until all the members are here."

"I requested the list from the governor when he first called the special session, asking that he mail each member a copy. I've heard enough criticism of one or two of his appointments to know there will be some objections."

Seven Face Charges For Market Robbery

FREDERICK, July 29 (AP)—Seven persons wanted for the breaking and entering of a Vienna, Va., food market waived extradition here today before Chief Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer and were turned over to Virginia authorities.

They were arrested here by city police Saturday after officers got reports some of the defendants were peddling cigarettes for $1.50 a carton.

The date of the Vienna, Va., robbery and the name of the establishment were not disclosed at the hearing before Judge Schnauffer.

Run Over By 22 Cars Of Train, Laborer Lives

GALAX, Va., July 29 (AP)—A 35-year-old North Carolina laborer emerged from seven hours in surgery in satisfactory condition after being run over by 22 cars of a freight train early today.

Surgeons amputated the entire right leg and the left foot and ankle of James E. Turner, a Negro, of Winston-Salem. Turner suffered multiple and extensive lacerations of the scalp and abrasions and cuts all over his body, doctors said.

Witnesses said the engine and cars of a Norfolk and Western Railroad freight passed over Turner when he stepped from the back of a truck onto the rails in the Galax freight yards.

Cement Strike Falling Apart

ALLENTOWN, Pa., July 29 (AP)—A nationwide strike in the cement industry began falling apart today as plant after plant fell in line with an agreement reached here with Universal Atlas Cement Co.

Indications were that something approaching normal production in the industry would be reached by mid-week. The companies were able to begin shipments to customers immediately because of a large inventory that was on hand when the strike began May 15 and gradually spread, halting millions of dollars in construction work.

Meetings with individual plants were scheduled in rapid fire order. Tony Gallo, general secretary of the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers Union said "I think everybody will go along."

Universal Atlas is one of the seven leading producers in the nation. The agreement reached here Saturday night affected only its Northampton, Pa., plant but immediately set the pattern for settlements which have followed.

The Northampton plant is the largest of Universal's 10 plants and also the largest in the Lehigh Valley, the nation's leading cement producing center.

The Northampton agreement calls for a 13.6 cents hourly wage package. Eleven cents goes into direct pay increases and the remainder into premium pay for various job categories. The average wage before settlement was $1.74 to $2.37 an hour.

Ten cents of the agreement is retroactive to May 1, the date the old contract expired. That was one of the key issues blocking settlement and represented a point gained by the union, which has sought the principle of retroactivity for many years.

Theater Man Dies

BALTIMORE, July 29 (AP)—John D. Little, for nearly 60 years connected with theaters in Baltimore and New York, died today. He was 78.

President Asks Oil Import Cut

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower asked oil importing companies east of the Rockies today to cut down their crude oil imports by 10 per cent.

The White House said failure to comply with the request could lead to mandatory controls.

Eisenhower said the heavy and increasing flood of foreign oil threatens to impair national security. The reasoning is that use of foreign oil discourages the search in this country for new wells and places too much dependence on a supply that might be cut off in an emergency.

Venezuela is the chief source of foreign oil. The Middle East countries and Canada also are sources but much of the Canadian oil goes to the Far West, which was not affected by today's action.

Eisenhower acted on the basis of a report from a Cabinet committee made up of Secretaries Weeks of Commerce, Seaton of Interior, Dulles of State, Wilson of Defense, Humphrey of Treasury, and Mitchell of Labor.

Seaton, who was at the White House at the time the announcement was made, was asked what effect it might have on the price of gasoline and other petroleum products.

"We hope that it will have none," he said.

The Cabinet committee recommended that established importing companies, other than in the Far West, be requested to cut back 10 per cent below their average crude oil imports for the years 1954, 1955 and 1956. Companies new to the business were asked to make varied reductions; some were not asked to make any.

Baltimorean Plunges Off Viaduct To Death

BALTIMORE, July 29 (AP)—A 36-year-old man died today after plunging 75 feet from the Orleans Street viaduct just north of the downtown business district.

Police identified the victim as Norvie Croxton, a Negro, of Baltimore. He dropped from the south rail about 4:15 p.m., narrowly missing a passing car on heavily-traveled Calvert Street below.

Traffic Patrolman Leonard Santibasci said he was on duty on the viaduct when the driver of a passing car shouted that a man had just jumped.

A 16-year-old youth, Manny Pugatsky, said he saw the man teetering on the rail before going over. Croxton was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital.

Jealousy Believed Motive For Murder And Suicide

FULLERTON, Md., July 29 (AP)—Baltimore county police said today a 31-year-old laundry worker shot a friend and then himself because he thought the other man had been making advances to his wife.

Police believe jealousy was the motive in the murder-suicide late Saturday night. The bodies were found in automobiles about 20 miles apart in Baltimore County.

County officers said Anthony Del Medico, the laundry employee, shot Warren Albert Shook, 26-year-old telephone worker, then killed himself while driving his car at a high rate of speed.

Police based the jealousy theory for the motive on a note and letter found in Del Medico's car.

Del Medico's body was pulled from his wrecked car on U. S. 40 near Aberdeen about two hours after Shook's body was found slumped over the wheel of his car on a lonely road near here. Shook had been shot five times in the temple.

Police thought at first that Del Medico had been killed when his car slammed into an abutment. They did not know he had been shot until the body was examined in a funeral home. A revolver was found in the car later.

Police said Del Medico and Shook had been friends since being in military service together.

Both were married and each was the father of two children.

The two deaths were linked when State Police, investigating the Aberdeen wreck, were asked by Baltimore police to arrest Del Medico for questioning in the Shook murder. That alarm was based on information that Del Medico had called Mrs. Shook during the evening and made threats against her husband, county police said.

Meeting Asked On Operation Of New Plant

Finance Commissioner John J. Long asked the Mayor and Council yesterday to meet with the consulting engineer to discuss the possibility of the Water Department operating the new sewage treatment plant which will go into operation soon.

Long said the plan might be "more economical" and emphasized that his suggestion is merely exploratory. The plant, as it stands, is under jurisdiction of the Street Department.

Long also questioned whether the consulting engineer, Robert T. Regester, could remove some of the men employed on his payroll.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz said the city is in a peculiar position and it appears best to wait until the plant is officially turned over to the city.

Buchholz said he understood one employee is no longer connected with Regester, and that two are presently employed. He told Long if he wanted to inquire about them, he was welcome to do so.

The mayor and commissioners of Westernport invited council to inspect its new filtration plant Sunday from 1 to 9 p. m.

The city parking meter inspector, Harry Whisner, said collections the week of July 21 were $770.75 compared to $753.30 the week of July 14, an increase of $17.45.

The water level at Lake Gordon is two feet three inches below the crest of the spillway and two feet two inches below in Lake Koon, a report of C. L. Brotemarkle, assistant superintendent of Everts Creek Water Company, shows. Consumption for the week ending yesterday was 84,970,000 gallons compared to 88,760,000 the same period a year ago.

In many primitive societies, women do most of the work while the men occupy themselves with war, politics and religion.

Local Trade School Will Close Doors

After 11 years of training hundreds of veterans in seven basic trades, the Allegany Trades School will close its doors to future classes on Wednesday.

The school, located in the former National Youth Administration building at the corner of Paca Street and Walnut Place, has been operated by the Allegany County Board of Education since May 1946.

J. D. Lonnholm, supervisor of vocational and adult education for the Board of Education, stated the facilities are being closed because of inadequate enrollment.

The supply of veterans eligible for training under the GI Bill is running out, he pointed out, and it is no longer economically feasible to operate the school.

The future of the big building, equipped with much machinery and tools for various types of craft training, is uncertain at this time.

Ralph R. Webster, Allegany County superintendent of schools, is in New York—at a national superintendent's meeting and was not available for comment on the possible use of the facilities.

The school, operated exclusively for veterans, gave Veterans Administration-approved training in machine shop, auto mechanics, drafting, radio and television, electricity, carpentry and bricklaying.

At one time the courses were conducted in three locations—the Paca Street building, Footer building and the old Maryland Avenue school.

In the 11 years it operated, the trade school had a total of 1,300 World War II and 225 Korean War veterans completing courses. At one time, the total enrollment in all courses exceeded 200 men. Graduates are represented in most of the major industries of the eastern United States.

Transit Firm Files Request For Fare Hike

The Peoples' Transit Company, Frostburg, which operates a bus line from Luke to Cumberland, has filed a request for an increase in rates with the Maryland Public Service Commission, according to Woodrow W. Damewood, president, who said the increase, if granted, would become effective September 1.

The corporation, composed of former bus drivers of the Cumberland and Westernport Bus Line has not requested an increase in fares since it was organized in September, 1953, Damewood pointed out, adding that the requested hike is more in the line of an adjustment since fares were not affected at the time the bus line operations were taken over by the drivers.

In most cases, Damewood continued, the requested increase will only amount to a few cents on any one fare. Where the present fare is odd cents, the new rate would be raised to the next multiple of five, he explained, such as from 17 cents to 20 cents.

In cases where the existing rate ends in 0 or 5, however, the increase will amount to five cents.

The corporation head also pointed out that the fare on his line from Cumberland to the western end of LaVale is one-cent cheaper than the fare charged by another line from Cumberland to Park Heights—at the eastern end of LaVale.

During the past seven years, Damewood continued, the price of gasoline, tires, oil and mechanical parts and supplies have all steadily increased in price, until it now becomes imperative that the company receive more income in order to survive.

Some industries in this section of the country, he noted, demand that the public build them a factory, give them a ten-year period free of all taxes, free water and other concessions to enable them to become established.

Peoples' Transit Company, Damewood said, asked for nothing but the opportunity to give the people of the Georges Creek District dependable bus service, which they have been doing since 1953 while maintaining one of the lowest costs per mile of any bus line in the country. During this time they have also met all of their obligations regularly and promptly, he noted.

However, with the prices of materials and supplies mounting daily, and many of their old customers turning to other means of transportation, a request for an increase in fares is imperative, Damewood asserted.

School Board Asks City To Close Street

The Allegany County Board of Education yesterday asked the Mayor and Council to close Osgood Street to facilitate construction of an expanded playground area at Allegany High School.

The board explained that the street separates two properties owned by the board and it would like the street closed so the area could be made a continuous one. The area involved has never been developed and is a dead end.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz, noting that the project is a worthwhile one, motioned that the city attorney proceed with necessary legal steps after the area is inspected by the fire chief.

Council also approved an ordinance providing for the closing of Schlund Avenue between Rosewood and Frederick streets in Welsh Home Addition. Commissioners George Tedrick, James Perrin and John Workmeister, local realtors, were named to determine damages, if any. Frank Stakem, et al., had requested the closing.

Thirteen resident of Mapleside petitioned council to open a portion of an alley between Gleason Street and Utah Avenue from First Street north to where it will permit access by Mrs. Katherine Sharpless and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lueck. It would also permit access by all residents between said points, the petition states. The matter was referred to City Attorney Thomas B. Finan, who is on vacation, and will return next week.

Mayor Roy W. Eves was authorized to execute a deed to Real Estate and Improvement Company of Baltimore City covering parts of Lots 58-59 in East End Land Company Addition on Vancouver Street for a consideration of $400. This is in accord with an agreement authorized by council in December 1956 and is in connection with the B&O Railroad yard expansion project.

Council accepted the bid of Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company for fleet insurance. The amount was $1,935 which Finance Commissioner John J. Long said is the lowest. The largest bid amounted to approximately $4,000, he added.

Beauty Contest Will Highlight Reading Fair

Entries Are Open To Entire Area

READING, Pa. — Cash prizes of $2,300, including a $1,000 first prize, again will be dangled before the nation's women—single and married—in the 12th annual Miss Reading Fair beauty contest.

Official entry forms, containing contest rules and regulations, dates and places of judging and the breakdown of prizes, are now available on request at the Reading Fair office, 522 Court Street, Reading, Pa.

The contest, one of the most liberal in the land, permits single and married women from anywhere in the world to participate. Only restriction is that contestants must have reached their 16th birthdays by September 1, this year, the closing day for entries.

In addition to the $1,000 top prize, the fair beauty sweepstakes offers a $350 second prize, $250 third prize and seven other cash prizes of $100 each. Merchandise awards also go to the 10 money winners and others who reach the contest finals.

The Reading Fair operates September 8 to 15, and the new beauty queen will be selected in final judging on the grandstand stage at the fair, Saturday night, September 14.

Judging will be based on beauty of face and figure, health and care of body, symmetry of figure and stage presence. Talent will not be considered.

Judges will be recruited from show business, modeling agencies and the kindred fields of newspaper, radio and television. For the past five years, Charles Stark, prominent New York TV announcer, has served on the board of judges.

There is no charge to enter the contest.

Fornoff, who has been serving as director of the county budget, is a career employee who never took an active part in politics.

With the proper use of signals and inferences, skillful partnerships will usually manage to keep their feet dry, but sometimes there is no escape. West in today's hand was one such innocent victim.

The slam contract was reasonable enough. The North hand is worth 19 points in support of hearts, calling for a jump shift,

Club To Picnic

LONACONING — Lonaconing Rotary Club's annual family picnic at Deep Creek Lake will be held Wednesday at the Bradley-Connor cottage.

Goren On Bridge

Although the opening bidder was aceless, North's strong bidding in the face of his repeated sign-offs convinced South that a Blackwood investigation was in order. When North showed three aces, South found himself in a slam contract.

When West opened the four of spades it appeared on the surface that the contract hinged on the location of the ace of clubs. Declarer decided to run as many cards as possible before taking the plunge in clubs. He picked up the trumps, cashed the spades, and proceeded to run the heart suit. After eight tricks had been played, the position was this:

NORTH
WEST
♠ Q 9 7
♥ A Q
♦ K 4
♣ K J

When West let go the club ten on the previous trick, declarer sensed that he was in difficulty. South therefore played his last trump. West made the forced discard of the club queen, since otherwise he had to unguard his protection in the diamond suit. South now led the king of clubs from his hand. West won the ace, but declarer took the balance.

Disarmament Hopes Slipping

Chances look slimmer daily for any real agreement on disarmament. This is shown in Secretary of State Dulles' latest "appeal" to the Soviet Union to make new concessions before nuclear weapons become available to "the pettiest and most irresponsible dictator."

Dulles' statement was obviously a propaganda effort, a move to counter the Russian attacks on the United States for allegedly blocking agreements. It was evidence that top American officials believe that the talks have changed from serious attempts to agree into speeches aimed primarily at swaying world opinion.

There has been much discussion of the proposition that Khrushchev and his henchmen want a period of peace and quiet so they can develop their own country and satisfy the Russian people who are described as restless under the austere circumstances of Soviet life.

If there is any truth in this, the red leaders may find it necessary to make some new concessions.

It is not entirely coincidence that the rise of Marshal Zhukov to a position of greater power in Russia occurred just before Russian disarmament delegate Valerian Zorin adopted his new "stiff" attitude. It is likely that Zhukov, being a real military man and not a civilian in uniform, has the typical soldier's attitude toward disarmament. It is that to cut armed forces is dangerous.

If this analysis of the stiffening Russian attitudes is true and if Zhukov is really in a controlling position in the Moscow presidium—two important "ifs"—then hope that any disarmament will be reached soon cannot be high.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky Mysterious Reporting

Recently the American press was regaled with a speech delivered by Mao Tze-tung of China which seemed to present a new type of mind. That was soon enough denounced by Secretary of States Dulles as an entrapment which, by now, it is clearly evident that it was.

The February issue of "Political Affairs," the theoretical organ of the Communist Party, reprints from the December 29, 1956 issue of the Peking "People's Daily" an address which contains the legend. "The article is prepared by the Editorial Department of the 'People's Daily' on the basis of a discussion at an enlarged meeting of the Political Bureau of the Central Committee of the Communist Party in China."

It is also to be noted that this address appeared in the "New Times" of Moscow on January 10 and in "International Affairs" (Moscow), January issue.

The article commences with an attack on imperialism, the nature of which is to be measured by the following:

The activities of the imperialists in the Hungarian affair of October, 1956, marked the gravest attack launched by them against the socialist camp since war of aggression they carried on in Korea. . . . At the same time, they stirred up a hysterical anti-Communist wave throughout the Western world. Although U. S. imperialism takes advantage of the fiasco of the Anglo-French war of aggression against Egypt in order to grab British and French interests in the Middle East and North Africa in every way possible . . .

The anti-Americanism is definite and clear-cut throughout. The enemy of Red China and of the entire Communist world is the United States and apparently the worst person in the United States is John Foster Dulles! This is what Mao says about him:

"We have always considered our enemies our best teachers, and now Dulles is letting us have another lesson. He may slander us a thousand times and curse us 10,000 times; there is nothing new in this at all. But when Dulles, putting the matter on a 'philosophic' plane, urges the imperialist countries . . . towards 'undermining' and 'disrupting' the socialist system headed by the Soviet Union, this is a lesson that is extremely helpful to us though such efforts will certainly come to naught . . ."

The address runs about 25 pages in "Political Affairs" and therefore cannot be reproduced here, in this limited space, in small and wholly inadequate quotations. But this can be made clear that what Mao Tze-tung presented to the world last December and what has been reprinted in Communist publications the world over is straight Stalinist fundamentalism.

On the subject of contradictions which gave "The New York Times" and American liberals so much hope that Red China's doctrine was changing and that the day would soon come when the dragon and the donkey would sit down to a repast, the authorized statement says:

"There are before us two types of contradictions which are different in nature. The first type consists of contradictions between our enemy and ourselves (contradictions between the camp of imperialism and that of socialism, contradictions between imperialism and the people and oppressed nations of the whole world, contradictions between the bourgeoisie and the proletariat in the imperialist countries, etc. . . . This is the fundamental type of contradiction, based on the clash of interests between antagonistic classes. The second type consists of contradictions within the ranks of the people (contradictions between different sections of the people, between comrades within the Communist party, or, in socialist countries, contradictions between the government and the people, contradictions between Communist Parties, etc. . . . This type of contradiction is not basic; it is not the result of a fundamental clash of interests between classes, but of conflict between right and wrong opinions or of a partial contradiction of interests. It is a type of contradiction whose solution must, first and foremost, be subordinated to the over-all interests of the struggle against the enemy . . ."

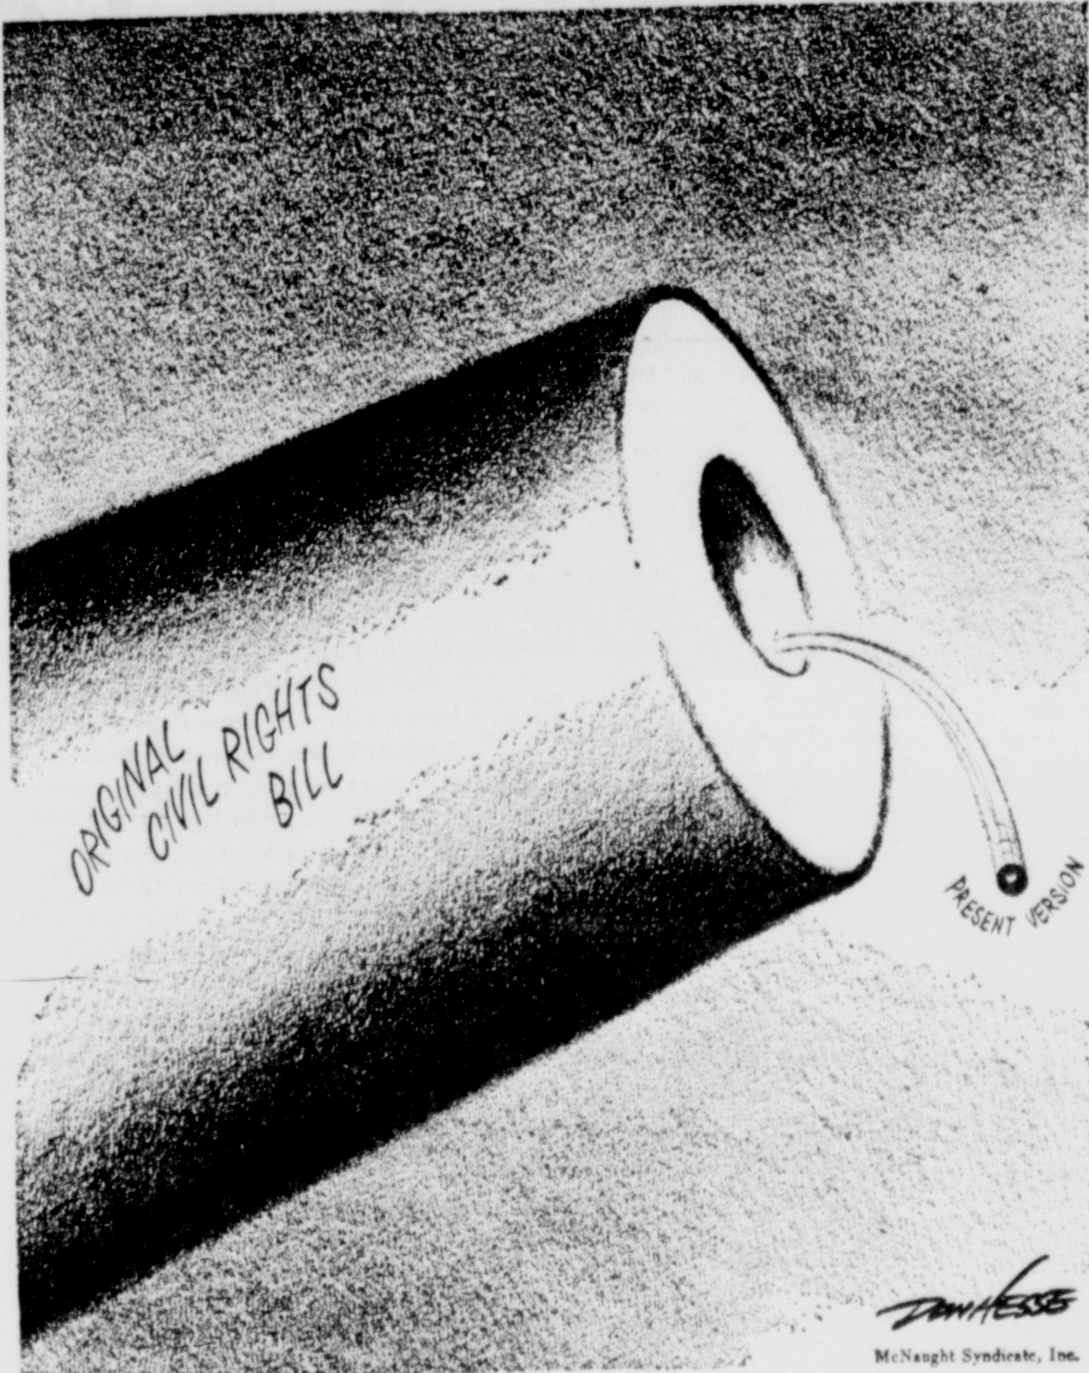

Then we go back to Stalinist orthodoxy:

" . . . by adopting a negative attitude towards everything connected with Stalin, and by putting up the erroneous slogan of 'destalinization,' some Communists have helped to foster a revisionist trend against Marxism-Leninism. This revisionist trend is undoubtedly of help to the imperialist attack against the Communist movement . . ."

It is to this document that the long discussion in Communist countries concerning Mao Tze-tung's ideas addresses itself.

What Do Judges Think About Supreme Court?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON.—Criticism from laymen and lawyers concerning recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States has lately been attracting much attention, but how do some of the judges throughout the country feel about the highest court?

There are not many opportunities for judges to discuss these matters publicly. But something that occurred the other day at the conference throws a light on this question. A substantial number of the state Chief Justices favored a resolution condemning in the severest terms some of the recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Here is the full text of the resolution offered by Chief Justice Norman F. Arterburn of the Supreme Court of Indiana:

"Be it resolved, that it is our opinion that the United States Supreme Court has transgressed sound legal principles, and in particular, usurped fact finding functions in weighing the evidence in the recent cases of Konigsberg v. State Bar of California and Schwartz v. Bd. of Bar Examiners of the State of New Mexico.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Our most famous citizen disappeared during the H-bomb alerts. That's the man in the streets.

It's his opinion that elects Presidents, reduces taxes, snowballs the civic conscience, pyramids the consensus of second guesses, consolidates the egg-white with the frosting, standardizes the inefficient maximum and balances the lumps.

Back in the skinned idees of 1936 this stack of short takes asked the sphinxian quizzation. If the man in the street is so important why is he in the street?

Why isn't he in the smoke-filled backrooms settling the affairs of the nations with liberal grunts? Why isn't he looking at the world through rose-colored keyholes? Why hasn't he got housemaid's knee in the elbow from leaning on executive desks?

Last week our town settled that question for once-and-a-half. It pulled an A-bomb rehearsal and ran the man in the street off it.

For fifteen unoccupied minutes there wasn't a bum in sight outside the cigarstore. There wasn't even a chair tilted against the firehouse.

Theoretically the man in the street was annihilated by a hypothetical attack of a simulated enemy. The bus lines didn't have one passenger left to rub against another.

Where did the man on the street jungle-up in the statistical panic following the mathematical end-of-the-works? Sorry, folks, but his average cyclotron-cellar was Pete's Homelike Saloon. At the end of fifteen refreshed minutes he emerged to start his life all over again.

Death Of School Bill Lets Russia Move Farther Ahead In Education

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—Things move fast in the House of Representatives. They move so fast that experts can hardly keep up with them. In split seconds a motion is gavelled down. In a couple of seconds, a voice vote is ruled on. The hubbub, the whispered conversations, the visiting along the aisle is so loud sometimes you can hardly hear the Speaker.

It was during this fast-moving of welter of debate last week that a vote was taken which will mean that the United States starts slipping behind Russia on education. For 100 years or so the USA has been well ahead of Russia on schools, teachers, universities. Russian illiteracy under the czar was 75 per cent. Now almost every Russian can read and write.

In some parts of Russia children are required to spend 10 years in school—which means two compulsory years of high school—ahead of some parts of the USA.

New modern schoolhouses have been springing up all over Russia. Amazing amounts of money have been spent on them. The State University of Kazakh looks as modern as the Supreme Court Building in Washington. The new building of Moscow University cost $150,000,000 and resembles a New York skyscraper. It cost about as much as the entire campus of many American colleges. Russians claim 4,300,000 students are enrolled in their universities and colleges, which also includes technical schools. Our universities and colleges have 3,000,000. Thirty-eight million are registered in Russian primary and high schools.

All in all, Russia is still behind, but is catching up.

Banker's Last Battle

A Republican banker who doesn't like Communism led the battle to pass a school bill on the turbulent floor of the House last week. He is Sam McConnell of Ardmore, Pa., the fashionable Main Line just outside Philadelphia. He traveled over the USA at his own expense studying schools, decided they were vitally needed. This will be Sam's last session of Congress. He is retiring at the end of the year. And the attempt to pass the school bill was his last big battle. He lost it.

The man who outmaneuvered him was another Republican, Congressman "Two-Cadillac" Charley Halleck, who came to Washington a poor country lawyer from northern Indiana. Now he is wealthy. Charley sent his children to private schools, the most expensive in Washington. So public schools aren't important to him.

But to Sam McConnell, wealthy investment banker, they are. During the school debate, another Republican, Bill Ayres of Akron, Ohio, proposed substituting the original Eisenhower school bill for the McConnell-Democratic compromise bill. This distributed Federal funds on the basis of need, not on the basis of both population and need.

Up jumped "Two-Cadillac" Charley.

"Now this is the bill the President really wants," he declared. "I could support this amendment."

Later Halleck had this remark censored from the Congressional Record—for reasons that will become obvious in a minute.

At this point, northern Democrats came over to Sam McConnell, told him they would throw their full weight behind the Ayres proposal. McConnell was jubilant. He jumped up, started to telephone the White House, confident he could get an immediate message from Eisenhower supporting the bill.

Before he could act, Halleck went over to Congressman Howard Smith of Northern Virginia, leader of the conservative Dixie-Republican coalition. They knew the tide was going against them; a school bill might be passed. Smith then moved to strike the enacting clause of the original compromise bill.

This forestalled McConnell's move to phone the White House and pass the Ayres Republican bill which northern Democrats accepted.

"Two-Cadillac" Charley then voted with the Dixie-GOP coalition to kill the bill and promptly had his own earlier remarks expunged from the Record.

That's how fast things move in the House of Representatives. That's also how hypocritical some Congressmen can be. It's also why children will be going to run-down, cramped, and crowded schoolhouses in many parts of the USA this year. Finally, it is why Russia will probably forge ahead of the USA in schools within the next couple of years.

In Congressional Cloakrooms

Alabama Congressmen were the only southerners who stood up and voted for the school bill.

They knew the real issue was not school integration, but better schools. Congressman Carl Elliott of Alabama, who helped draft the school bill, deserves credit for influencing all Alabama Congressmen except Boykin and Selden. . . . In Flat Rock, N.C. last winter a firetrap schoolhouse caught on fire. One crippled boy was burned to death. A schoolteacher trying to rescue him died.

All North Carolina Congressmen, however, voted against schoolhouses last week, as follows: Alexander, Barden, Bonner, Cooley, Durham, Kitchin, Lennon, Scott, Shuford, Whitener. . . . Congressman Peter Frelinghuysen, son of a blue-stocking New Jersey family which has dominated Republican politics for years, was heartbroken when he learned Eisenhower would not support the school bill. . . . Five northern Democrats voted against schools for American children: Fallon of Maryland, Marshall of Minnesota, O'Neill of Massachusetts, Walter of Pennsylvania, Feighan of Ohio; plus three border state Democrats: Chelf, Gregory, and Watts of Kentucky. . . . Harry Haskell of Delaware, Republican freshman from the state with the highest per capita income and which stands to gain least from Federal school aid, helped draft the compromise bill and earned the respect of his Democratic colleagues. . . . Not one Texas Congressman voted for schools for American children, though all voted in the past for tax bonanzas to big oil companies and for higher priced gas to northern housewives.

He added that "when worn by a girl with a boyish figure it was quite permissible to add various devices that supplied some deficiencies which nature had omitted to provide."

How old were you when first able to swim? Take any swimming lessons? Neither did I. In our old neighborhood in Brooklyn August First was known as "launching day." But I never saw a kid fail in the test. They all started getting ready for "launching day" when six or seven years old.

LONG HAIR

Men like long hair on women better than short hair. So I note it stated. Should read "some men." Many men don't care to have their wives feature long hair styles. It all depends on the woman. That is, whether or not she is a long hair or short hair type. Men also know that cleverly designed short hair styles make a woman look younger. What husbands object to are short hair-dos that make women look like men. Anyway, give the men more credit for style sense. Smart wives always ask their husbands' opinions as to hats and hair-dos. For one thing they get an honest reply. When a woman asks another woman about a hat or a hair-do she usually gets an insincere answer.

Orinase, Antidiabetic Pill, Soon To Be Available

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

At the time of this writing, the federal government is about to approve the sale of a new oral antidiabetic pill (Orinase). This means that the product will graduate from the experimental stage and become available as a prescription medication in drug stores.

These tablets cannot be used by everyone with diabetes. They are most useful in the middle-aged and elderly, more so among diabetics who have developed the disease recently and in the group using less than 40 units of insulin daily. Orinase is not effective in the juvenile diabetic or in the more severe cases that require a larger dose of insulin. A new product, DBI, was introduced recently. It appears to be effective in all age groups including juvenile diabetics.

Members of the Joslin clinic in Boston do not advise patients to stop taking insulin while switching to Orinase. The insulin injection dosages are to be reduced gradually (25 per cent at a time) and the effects of the change are observed carefully. This means that on the first day the dosage is reduced by one-quarter; on the next day, by one-half; then, three-quarters; and on the fourth day, the transformation is complete.

Questionable cases are hospitalized. A single dose test is done, usually prior to the switch, to determine whether the product will work. A favorable reaction occurs when the blood sugar drops more than 20 per cent within four hours after a test dosage of 3 grams.

The diet remains unchanged and it is imperative that the menus be followed religiously. Any untoward effects, such as nausea, vomiting, skin rash, or a yellowish discoloration of the skin should be reported immediately. It is advisable also to see the physician weekly for the first month and once a month thereafter.

Three antidiabetic pills have been developed. Carbutamide (BZ55) is most effective in lowering blood sugar but the product was withdrawn from clinical investigation because it was too toxic. It still is being used in Europe, however.

Orinase thus far has shown no serious side effects and will be released as soon as the United States food and drug administration approves. DBI has been out only a few months; it decreased blood sugar in more than 85 per cent of 104 cases. In about one-third the drug was discontinued because of side reactions.

Patterson Stops Jackson In 10th Round Of Title Bout

Challenger Hits Canvas Three Times

Hurricane Is Given Unmerciful Beating; Referee Stops Match

NEW YORK, July 29 (AP)—Floyd Patterson gave Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson an unmerciful beating tonight, dropping the No. 1 challenger three times before Referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the fight after 1:52 of the 10th round in the first defense of his world heavyweight title at the Polo Grounds.

When Referee Goldstein stepped between the two men, the Hurricane had been backed against the ropes near Patterson's corner from a tremendous punch barrage. Jackson objected strenuously and Goldstein had to put both arms around him, pinning him from further action.

The 5 to 1 underdog put up a game battle against the 22-year-old champion but he couldn't cope with the heavy artillery of the world wonder of the Helsinki Olympics in 1952.

Hurricane Goes Down
Just before the bell ended the first round, the Hurricane was down on all fours from a blinding right-left-right barrage.

In the second round Patterson again felled the flapping Hurricane with another burst of fury. Jackson bounced up at about two but the official knockdown counter reached six.

Even the mechanical man who never tires began to run down as the bout passed the halfway mark. Firing away with both hands, Patterson drove two lefts and a right to Jackson's head and body for another knockdown in the ninth. The Hurricane was up at four, blood flowing from his nose.

Jackson came out punching for the 10th and what proved to be the last round but he ran into a left-right combination as he bounced off the ropes. Tommy kept pawing away only to catch another fierce barrage that drove him to the ropes and convinced Goldstein Jackson had enough.

Slaughter Is Shutout
The slaughter was a shutout on all three official scorecards. Each official had it 9-0 going to the 10th and so did the AP. Bill Reht and Joe Agnello were the judges.

It looked as though the fifth was the closest round with the Hurricane dancing in his corner and pressing a body attack. After hurting Tommy with a left hook to the body in the fourth, Patterson appeared over anxious in the fifth and was missing with some of his leaping punches.

It was the second time Jackson had been stopped in 36 pro fights, both on technical knockouts. Nino Valdes stopped him three times in the second round for an automatic TKO, July 14, 1954. There was nothing automatic about this one for he took a fearful beating through most of the contest.

Wins 19th Straight
Patterson now has won 19 straight, stopping 13 of his last 14 opponents. Jackson lasted all 12 rounds June 8, 1956 when he lost a split decision to Patterson, the victory that sent Floyd on to a title bout with Archie Moore, Nov. 30.

Patterson, heaviest of his career at 184 pounds, received a $175,000 guarantee in this independent promotion by Emil Lence. It was the first heavyweight championship match in which the International Boxing Club has not had an interest since it was organized in 1949.

Although Jackson at 192½ had an 8½-pound pull on Patterson, he couldn't match the champ's punching. His punches were more slaps and cuffs. Only his fine condition kept him around as long as 10 rounds.

Cards' Mizell Beats Bucs, 4-0

Pittsburgh Held To Pair Of Hits

ST. LOUIS, July 29 (AP)—Unpredictable Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, the big "if" in the St. Louis bid for the National League pennant, tonight pitched a masterful two-hitter for the Cardinals, 4-0 over the Pittsburgh Pirates. The victory put the Cards in first place, pending the outcome of the Milwaukee-New York game.

Pittsburgh . . . 000 000 000—2 2 St. Louis . . . 001 012 000—4 7 0 Douglas, O'Brien (6) and Peterson, Foiles (6); Mizell and Landrith. L.—Douglas.

Vejar Is Victor
NEW YORK, July 29 (INS)—Middleweight Chico Vejar, of Stamford, Conn., won an unanimous decision tonight over Jay Anderson, Paterson, N. J., in a 10-round bout at the St. Nicholas Arena.

Vejar weighed 158½ for the national televised (DuMont) fight while the loser weighed in at 158.

Title Fight By Rounds

By BOB CONSIDINE (International News Service)

ROUND ONE — Patterson in white trunks, came out with the attitude of a man who takes his opponent seriously. After a minute of nothing, he got in a very good left to the mouth of Jackson, who has long Elvis Presley sideburns. Saliva joined the flight of the bugs. Sensing that this might be it, Patterson plowed in and more or less stunned the durable Jackson against the low green ring ropes.

Two seconds before the bell that ended the round, Patterson slugged Jackson with two firm rights to the jaw, flooring the challenger for a count of one or two.

ROUND TWO—Jackson came out jiggling, but Patterson seemed to regard it as largely show. He slipped a punch or two, then winged in a hard right and left to Jackson's nose, bloodying it. The unorthodox Jackson tried to pry open Patterson's defense, but the champ hit him with a right that floored him for a count of six, by the knockdown timekeeper's count.

ROUND THREE—Jackson refused to sit down during the minute rest. Instead, he did knee bends in his corner, bracing himself on the ropes. His corner seemed confused. So did the crowd. Patterson, with the face of a cat ready to take a wounded mouse at any time he chose, let the challenger go through his antics as the round started. The only solid punches of the round were landed by the champion.

ROUND FOUR — Jackson sat out the rest period preceding the start of the round. Patterson let himself be pushed around the ring, but tired of the nonsense and stung Jackson with two sharp left hooks, re-opened the nose wounds. After a bit of toe to toe, Patterson hit Jackson with clean hook to the jaw and the challenger briefly held his groin and made a pained expression, as if fouled. It wasn't much of a round, but what there was of it was all Patterson's.

ROUND FIVE — Jackson took some roadwork before the bell opened the fifth. He jogged back and forth in his corner, while the crowd howled. The Patterson corner looked at him as if he was demented. He rushed the champion at the start of the round, forcing matters. Patterson, retreating, took a couple of hard punches in the belly, one of them a typical round-house Jackson uppercut. Goldstein had to separate them at the bell. Both seemed grateful.

ROUND SIX—More knee-bends for Jackson before the bell. Patterson, the smaller of the two Negro men, clashed lefts and rights across the durable, punched-in face of Jackson. But Jackson stayed close for most of the round, blunting the better boxer's blows. Patterson, trying for a kayo, had his man pretty well dazed near the end of the round.

ROUND SEVEN — Jackson waded in, missing, pushing, but forcing it. Patterson stopped his progress with a left and right, but gave ground again as the challenger came on. Hurricane was an aggressor with ground gains. Patterson met him with two fine left hooks, one to the Adam's apple. Jackson, bloody now, tried to do a fancy jig in front of the dangerous Patterson, and took enough punishment to make him wonder where was his corner.

ROUND EIGHT — A strong Patterson right, which traveled no more than a foot, sent Jackson stumbling. The challenger was throwing more punches but there was nothing behind them. Patterson flailed away. It was a war of attrition.

ROUND NINE — Jackson sent a soggy right to Patterson's groin. He couldn't hurt him there, either. Patterson rapped in a loud hook to the face. Then a jarring jab, as Jackson rushed. Then a real hard straight right to the face that flattened Jackson for a count of four. But Jackson danced back, after getting up, bloody, but still eager. "Throw that right hand, Tommy!" Whitey Bimstein shouted from Jackson's corner. The wrong guy heard it. Patterson hit the challenger with a beaut.

ROUND TEN — Jackson, still forcing the fight, slapped Patterson about the biceps with loud reporters. The champion, a much better fighter, waited his time and then drove him into the ropes with lefts and rights. He seemed to be giving out no more punishment than usual, but Referee Goldstein stepped in suddenly and called the whole thing off at 1:52 of the tenth round.

Jackson protested in a dazed way, but it did him no good. More police than guard Central Park against switch-blades jumped up on the ring apron but nobody stormed in for Jackson's autograph. Or Patterson's.

Henry Hurls No-Hit Game For Kiwanis

Beats Rotary, 3-0; Lions Top Elks, 6-5

Gary Henry tossed a no-run, no-hit game last night at Penn Avenue Field as the Kiwanis Club broke the nine-game winning streak of the first place Rotary Club by the score of 3-0.

Henry faced only 25 batters, three getting on base via walks and one on an error. He struck out 19 to tie the league record and scored his fifth straight win against no defeats. Gary also accounted for two of the Kiwanis' five hits. Mike Clark batted in two of the winners' three runs.

The win enabled the Kiwanis Club to tie the Elks for second place at 10-5. Rotary leads with 13-3.

Roger "Pooch" Manges, losing pitcher, fanned six and Nines struck out eight.

The Lions edged the Elks in an afternoon game at East Side by the score of 6-5, scoring the tying and winning markers in the bottom of the 7th.

Bucky Whitman opened the rally with a double, took third on Younger's sacrifice and scored the tying marker on Eddie Gaus' hit. Gaus pilfered second and came home on Athey's single to center.

Ronnie Evans pitched a four-hitter and whiffed 11, increased his season's total to 114 in 58½ innings. Roger Growden smacked a three-run triple for the Elks in the first inning. Whitman, Junior Athey and Gary Davis collected two hits each for the Lions. Both of Whitman's hits were doubles. Athey batted in three runs and Davis two.

The Jaycees whipped the Optimist Club by the score of 18-1. Stevenson was the winner and Davidson the loser. Scores:

Cresaptown stretched its lead to two games in the battle for fourth place in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League by cracking Frostburg's 7-game winning streak yesterday at Cresaptown by the score of 8-2.

The win assured Manager Dale Broadwater's team at least a tie for fourth spot as each team has only two more games on its schedule.

Gary Clingerman was the big man in the Cresaptown victory as he notched the win in the role of relief pitcher and had a perfect day at the plate with four hits—two singles, a double and triple. He has won four games and lost one. Jimmy McKenzie aided the cause with a pair of two-baggers. Chester Carter collected two of Frostburg's five safeties.

Ellerslie increased its lead to two games by beating LaVale, 15-5, while Midland was upsetting Mt. Savage, 7-6, but the game at Ellerslie was played under protest from the 6th inning by LaVale over a balk ruling.

Rich Lybarger, D. Lowery and Twain Lowery garnered three hits for Ellerslie. Kelley collected three safeties for LaVale. Wharton had two and Scaletta slammed a triple. Two of Twain Lowery's blows were two-baggers.

Mt. Savage suffered its fourth consecutive loss to Midland. Wayne Johnson, who relieved Bill Green in the fourth frame, got credit for his 4th win against a single setback. Bobby Green absorbed his third successive loss, making his record 8-4. Johnson collected a double and single and McGraw smacked a triple for Midland. White Sox Hurler Racks Up 15th Win

BALTIMORE, July 29 (AP)—Classy Billy Pierce, winningest pitcher in the major leagues, stopped the Baltimore Orioles on four hits tonight as the Chicago White Sox won 5-0 and moved within three games of the first-place New York Yankees.

The 30-year-old lefthander struck out six and didn't walk a man while copping his 15th victory against seven losses.

Pierce faced only 30 batters as he retired the Orioles in order in six innings. Baltimore's hits were made on doubles by Joe Durham and Billy Gardner in the third and ninth innings, and singles by George Kell and Jim Busby in the fourth and eighth innings. Durham was out trying to stretch his hit.

Hal (Skinny) Brown, who lost his sixth decision against three victories, almost matched Pierce's performance for the first five innings as he gave up only four hits. But he helped the White Sox along by walking two of the first three batters in the sixth.

Minnie Minoso singled for one run and after the runners moved up on an infield out, Luis Aparicio drove in two more with another single. Chicago . . . 000 003 101—5 8 0

Scoring 13 runs in the third inning, the Old Germans whipped the Old Exports in a City Softball League game yesterday at Post Field by the score of 16-12.

The Knights of Columbus moved within a half game of the front-running Hermanns by decisively Blue Ribbon Bakery at Fort Hill Field by the score of 4-3 on a two-run homer by Bob Mattingly in the 5th inning.

"Sonny" Method was the "big gun" for the Old Germans with five hits in five trips. He helped himself to a triple, three doubles and a single. "Brindle" Long collected four singles and Bob Hook aided his cause with a double and single. Hook fanned ten and registered his eighth win against three losses. Centerfielder Denny Martin made perfect pegs to third and home to cut off Old Export rallies in the second frame. Glen Wilson and Fred Meeks shared four of the Old Exports' seven hits.

George Harris notched win No. 13 as the Casey's edged the Bakers. Two leaping catches by Denny Shuck, K. of C. shortstop, were the fielding highlights. Rickey Harris collected a double and single for the winners.

The three hits yielded by George Harris were singles by Koelker and Harold Hudson and a two-base rap by Troutman.

Brewer Beats Cleveland, 6-2

Ted Williams Ups Average To .378

BOSTON, July 29 (AP)—Boston right-hander Tommy Brewer posted his 13th victory and slugger Ted Williams provided the offensive spark by continuing his assault on Cleveland pitching today as the Red Sox defeated the Indians, 6-2.

Brewer, 26-year old curve ball specialist, stopped the Indians on eight hits while working his way out of several jams to go the distance for the 13th time this season. He struck out nine and walked only three.

Williams, who treats Cleveland pitchers as cousins, scored the tying and tie-breaking runs while collecting a double and single in three official times at bat.

The pair of hits boosted his American League leading average to .379, and his average against the Indians this year to .532.

In addition, Williams hiked his American League record for intentional bases on balls in a season to 23 when Cleveland tried unusual strategy for the second straight day on his final trip to the plate.

Williams held the old league mark of 17, set in 1955. New York's Mickey Mantle surpassed that figure by drawing his 18th yesterday.

Robin Roberts Shuts Out Cubs

Phils Take Fourth Of 5-Game Set, 6-0

CHICAGO, July 29 (AP)—Robin Roberts gave Philadelphia's pennant stock a tremendous shot in the arm today by pitching the Phillies to a four hit 6-0 conquest of the Chicago Cubs today.

It was Roberts' second straight win, and his first shutout since blanking Cincinnati on a four hitter for a 2-0 win July 14, 1956. Also his first win in Wrigley Field since beating the Cubs, 6-4, July 18, 1956.

Roberts, recording his eighth win against 13 losses, was in command all the way after yielding a first pitch double to Bobby Adams, the Cubs' third baseman a 1 leadoff batter.

Today's conquest was the Phillies fourth of the five game series, and gave Manager Mayo Smith's machine a 6-2 record for their first eight games of this third Western junket.

Break In Cement Strikes Welcome To Contractors

Bright news appeared on the cement strike scene yesterday, at a time when the contractors on the Cumberland flood control project have only enough on hand to last a few days.

If no more cement is received by the E. J. Albrecht Company or the George F. Hazelwood Company, the work in Wills Creek will be brought to a stop by the end of this week.

Hazelwood is reported to have only a small amount of cement on hand, just enough to last through Wednesday.

The Albrecht firm says it has one carload left, which will last through the week. The company is working on a reduced schedule, and if it were at normal, the load of cement would be gone in two days.

Hazelwood has Phase 3 and 4 of the creek work, from Market Street to the confluence of the creek with the Potomac River, while Albrecht is working from Market Street upstream.

The batch plant of Cumberland Cement and Supply, which furnishes ready-mix concrete for local contractors, has been operating at a reduced rate.

The good news is that a major break in the crippling nationwide cement strike appeared imminent with employees of the Al-las Cement Company, a major producer, expected to vote approval of a new contract yesterday.

While the agreement with the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers affects only the Northampton, Pa., plant, it was regarded as forming the basis of new pacts for five other Atlas plants.

Another new contract was reached over the weekend for 330 workers at the North American Cement Corporation Plant at Security, Md.

But at Mannheim, W. Va., officials of the Alpha-Portland Cement Company, major producers for this section, said there was nothing new to report on its situation, with the 190 workers still on strike.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

How Old Is Too Old To Correct Posture?

"I am 45. Do you think it's too late to 'rect a sway back'?" I realized in reading one of your articles that exactly the thing you warn about has happened to me. I've let bad posture spoil my figure. Am I too old to do the exercises you recommend and if I do them, can I expect results?"

Never Too Late

The letter from which this paragraph is quoted is typical of many. Too often, women feel that they shouldn't try for figure improvement because of their age. This is far from true! There is no age limit for posture improvement. Of course it's best to perfect posture all through life, but barring physical drawbacks of which there are few, any woman's figure can be changed to much better lines if she gets busy and does something about it. The correction of posture often brings improved health, too.

In the case of swayback and the abdominal bulge it causes, the start is easy. See how much good it does to center your weight on the balls of your feet where it belongs. Roll your weight forward from your heels through your arches to the balls of your feet, then take a look in the mirror.

Five Minutes A Day

With your shoes off, spend five minutes a day concentrating on late to 'rect a sway back' I this, first with one foot, then the other, then with both feet together. Stand and walk until you make this distribution of weight habit. You should, however, check your body alignment at both the start and as you progress using the hints given in my booklet, "Your Posture." The booklet also gives four other exercises specifically for swayback which you need for health. The booklet will be sent to you as soon as we receive 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request. Address me at this newspaper.

Allender Heads State Council Of Carpenters

New Developments In Industry Cited

F. Patrick Allender, business agent of Carpenters Local 1024 here, has been elected president of the Maryland State Council of Carpenters.

Other officers of the council which represent locals in Maryland and Washington, D. C., are: Lorenzo Marshall, Salisbury, first vice president; Louis Fischer, Washington, second vice president; Carroll Wiese, Baltimore, secretary-treasurer, and Ralph Cline, Baltimore, recording secretary.

Are Named Trustees

Trustees will be Fred Hershman, Baltimore; Paul Perry, Hagerstown, and Walter Loew, Salisbury.

The officers were elected Saturday morning at a meeting in the Potomac Fish and Game Club at Dam 4 of the C & O Canal at Williamsport.

W. A. Johnson, general representative of the Carpenters and Joiners Union, delivered the principal address.

He urged the union delegates to be alert to new developments in construction.

Prefabricated houses, once used only in emergencies, he said, now often go up to the $40,000 to $60,000 bracket and even beyond the $100,000 mark.

Urges Safety Drive

He urged the carpenter union officials also to be alert to the possibility of plastics.

Prestressed and precast concrete, he said, is a fast growing industry and carpenters should be alert to the possibilities of sharing in its possibilities.

Unions were urged to try to settle jurisdictional disputes on the local level.

Saying safety is "something we take too lightly," he urged all union officials to "talk, teach and preach safety at all times on the job."

Robert B. Kimble, executive director, and Max A. Orlove represented the Department of Employment Security.

Alarm Boxes Are On Hand

The Fire Department has alarm boxes on hand for two of the city's public housing projects, according to Fire Chief Virgil Parker.

He said one of the devices will be placed at Banneker Homes on Frederick Street, and the other will be used at the third development planned near Oldtown Road.

All of the 95 fire alarm boxes used by the Fire Department, Chief Parker said, are being painted and checked.

Edgar L. Bucy, utility man for the department, is providing the paint job, and replacing the old FIRE ALARM signs on poles with FIRE.

At the same time, the department is testing, painting and repairing the some 700 fire hydrants throughout the city. They are being tested and painted by Mr. Bucy, who orders the Water Department to repair any hydrants which need attention.

Oak Wilt Fight Intensified In West Virginia

The fight against oak wilt in the forests of West Virginia this year is the most intensive control program since the disease was discovered in that state.

F. Waldo Craig, director of the plant pest control division of the State Department of Agriculture, said that about 95 per cent of the state's timber area has been covered by the first aerial survey of the season conducted by low flying planes.

Mr. Craig said that control crews have processed 40 more diseased trees than last year and at this time last year ground crews had 350 trees left to be visited as compared to 40 this summer.

Commissioner of Agriculture John T. Johnson pointed out that the intensive oak wilt control program, which has been carried on during the past two years, appears to have been effective in reducing the number of diseased trees.

This is the first official indication that some progress has been made toward effective control of oak wilt.

A second aerial survey will be conducted within a few days to locate trees which are just now showing signs of the disease. Some parts of West Virginia will be covered by a third survey near the end of the growing season.

The stepped-up effort is possible because of federal aid made available through the U. S. Forest Service for the first time this year. In past years limited state funds have allowed only a partial survey of forest land.

Richard D. Uhl has received a permit from the county to build an addition to a restaurant located on Main Street in Mount Savage. It will cost about $1,000. The walls will be of concrete block and the roof of composition shingle. The addition will measure 35 by 20-16 feet.

Youghiogheny Project Will Save Garrett Timber

(This is the fourth and final article on the plan of the Little Youghiogheny River watershed in Garrett County.)

Through the cooperation of state, county, and local officials the watershed plan will afford flood protection to Oakland and nearby communities.

The completion of the five-year project also will mean a big step toward the conservation of valuable timberland and productive farmland of the area.

The Maryland Department of Forests and Parks will furnish the assistance of the local forester, who will aid landowners and forest products operators with their woodland problems.

The department will furnish tree seedlings free of charge to landowners for conservation planting. It will enforce the regulations promulgated by the local Forestry Board and make every effort to maintain or improve the forest fire record.

Through its personnel, the State Fish and Game Commission will assist cooperating landowners with the installation of the woodland and wildlife measures on their property.

The education phase of the program will be carried out by the Extension Service. The most appropriate method will be to insure that all farmers in the watershed area will know what services and assistance they can expect from the different agencies when participating in the program.

The Garrett Soil Conservation District will be active in the installation and maintenance of the watershed program.

The Farmers Home Administration Soil and Water Conservation Loan Program, recently enacted into law, will be made available to all eligible individual farmers and landowners in the area. Educational meetings will be held in cooperation with other agencies outlining the services available and eligibility requirements. Present Farmers Home Administration families in the project area will be encouraged to cooperate in the program.

The County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee will cooperate with the governing body of the Soil Conservation District by providing financial assistance for farmers of the watershed area as they apply to the current program.

The Soil Conservation Service, working with and through the Garrett Soil Conservation District, will furnish technical assistance to help farmers prepare conservation plans to cover the land treatment measures.

In carrying out the land treatment work, close cooperation will be maintained among the SCS Extension workers, Forests and Parks, Game and Inland Fish Commission and other agencies. The SCS will design, layout and provide the inspection of construction and will share in construction cost.

It will also prepare contract specifications, contract payment estimates, provide for final inspection and certify completion of the structural measures to be installed.

The Town Council of Oakland and the County Commissioners have jointly agreed to furnish the necessary land, easements and right-of-way; operate and maintain the structural program; and furnish a share of the construction cost.

Two Men Held For Stealing Junk

Two local men were arrested by City Police Detective Joseph H. Stutcher last night and are being held for Trial Magistrate's Court.

Police said Louis Donius, 221 Lexington Avenue, and Robert Lipscomb, of 608 Virginia Avenue, are being held in connection with the theft of some scrap junk from Brock's Scrap Yard on King Street.

The watchman at the scrap yard, who notified police two men were attempting to take junk from the vicinity, later identified them. They were reported to have been pulling a wagon with some scrap on it down Lafayette Avenue when taken into custody.

Plan Adopted For Cleaning Dusty Area

A plan for removing dust and dirt from a section of North Mechanic Street affected by the flood control project was completed at a meeting in City Hall yesterday morning.

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn said the plan calls for placing signs prohibiting parking from 8 to 10 a. m. on Tuesdays and Wednesdays on an area between Valley and Market streets.

He said the plan will allow the Street Department to use its equipment to clean the area.

Chief Flynn said officials of the E. J. Albrecht Company, contractor for Sections 2 and 3 of the flood control project, said the firm will be working in the area for the rest of the year.

Also present at the conference were Commissioners William V. Keegan and William Buchholtz and Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers.

Escapees Surrender To Police

Two brothers who escaped from the Morgan County Jail in Berkeley Springs, W. Va., on Tuesday, July 23, gave themselves up voluntarily yesterday morning.

Deputy Sheriff James Batt, who was on duty at the sheriff's office said the two men walked up on the porch of his home next to the jail about 11:20 a. m. and surrendered.

During the past week they had been in and out of the Hancock area, according to Deputy Sheriff Batt, who said the men admitted they were "starved out," had no money and could get no rides anywhere.

So they decided to give themselves up. The two brothers, James Shirley, 22, and Calvin Shirley, 20, of Berkeley Springs, were arrested last month in Frederick for the alleged robbery of a drive-in theatre near Berkeley Springs.

Authorities of Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania were alerted to be in the lookout for the two men who were reported to have been seen in the Hancock area following their escape.

Sheriff William Clark received a number of calls that the two men had been seen. West Virginia State Police at Romney said last night they received a cancellation notice at 2:48 p. m. yesterday.

Thursday is the target date for the plan to go into operation.

Sandra, who is 15 and a sophomore at Fort Hill High School, will represent the playground at the annual Queen Contest to be held Friday, August 2, at City Hall.

Rebecca Loy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Loy, 718 Bedford Street, was crowned the sub-teen queen, and Cathy Hutcheson, 6, of 521 Lowell Avenue, the tiny-tot queen.

The playground royalty was crowned by last year's queen, Susan Wilson; her attendant, Donna Rice, and Vicky Yeager, the tiny-tot queen.

The hospital said Ronald E. Miller sustained severe cuts on his left middle and ring fingers. He underwent surgery and was reported in "good" condition.

Thunderstorms Of Crop-Saving Value Expected

Considerable Rain Moving To State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More crop-saving thunderstorms were expected over Maryland Monday night and Tuesday.

The Weather Bureau said "considerable moisture is being brought toward this region from . . . from the South Atlantic states and . . . from the Missouri section."

The forecast Monday said the situation "favors well the development of afternoon and evening thundershower activity for this section today and tomorrow."

Rainfall during Sunday's storm varied from about an inch in Salisbury to almost two inches at Salisbury on the dried-out Eastern Shore.

Sunday's precipitation was called a "saving" rain, but not the "soaking" rain farmers have been looking for. It was not believed sufficient to bring general relief from the drought that has gripped the State.

However, on the Eastern Shore it was regarded as a "saving" rain in the sense that it would keep alive some crops, particularly beans, to await a steadier downpour.

Sunday's storm was violent in some areas—knocking down trees, flooding highways and causing other damage. Lightning started nearly a dozen fires in Baltimore and Anne Arundel counties.

On the Eastern Shore, which has been recommended for federal drought disaster relief, the storm went through Queen Annes, Caroline and Dorchester counties, dropping about an inch of rain on vegetable crops seriously close to drying up.

In the equally dried-out Southern Maryland, Charles County agent Robert M. Hall said the Sunday rainfall there in all probability will take the county out of the disaster class.

The Weather Bureau said the storms were prevalent east of Frederick and that the pattern may continue through Tuesday.

The bureau said showers are likely on Friday also, with rainfall for the period averaging around one-half inch.

Westernport Water Ban Is Lifted

A temporary water ban has been lifted in Westernport although consumers are reminded to use discretion in conserving the town's supply.

About 10 days ago the ban was placed on the water for such use as washing cars and sprinkling lawns and gardens. Alvin Pence, water commissioner, lifted the ban yesterday afternoon.

He said at the present time the reservoir located on Chestnut Street adjacent to the filtration plant is full with a supply of 750,000 gallons of water. The storage tank located near the new Bruce High School has a supply of 150,000 gallons.

Refunds Are Ordered On Sewer Costs

Refunds totaling $4,320.97 will be paid to 19 Frederick Street property owners under an order passed by the Mayor and Council yesterday morning.

The refunds, representing half of the cost of a storm sewer laid during the construction of the street, were paid to the property owners who had paid liens in full. The action follows an agreement reached in Allegany County Circuit Court in connection with the $30,216.55 storm sewer installation.

Also ordered was the payment of $222.57 to Resources Research Inc., Washington, for an air pollution survey held here last month.

Checks for the second period of July will be issued to city employees Thursday.

Local 489 To Meet

Local 489, Plumbers and Steamfitters Union, will meet Friday at 8 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

County Agent Gives Help On Proper Care Of Lawn

Mowing the lawn is a summer chore which makes a man sweat and puff but the reward is well worth the work when he and the family relax in lawn chairs in the cool, cool cool of the evening.

Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent, has come up with some timely suggestions which can result in a velvet-like plot of grass.

The lawn mower should be set so that it will cut at least one and one-half inches above the soil level. It should be kept well sharpened so that the foliage will be removed with a clean cut rather than leaving ragged tips.

Cutting the turf not closer than one and one-half inches allows sufficient leaf area for food production for good root development, and aids in shading crabgrass and weeds.

The lawn should be cut each time the grass reaches a height of two and one-half inches, except that grass that is shaded

Trio Appeals Sentence In Assault Case

Men Found Guilty In Police Battle

Three local men yesterday were released under $500 bond each after they were found guilty in the assault of several city policemen on a downtown street late Saturday night.

The three men, Russell J. Warnick, 22, of 1034 Bedford Street; Gary E. Lease, 21, of 225 Bedford Street, and Ronald Shook, 22, of 22 Laing Avenue, were sentenced to Allegany County Jail, but indicated through their lawyer they are going to file an appeal and were released on bond to await the October term of the Circuit Court.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason, who conducted the hearing and who also set bond, sentenced Shook to 90 days and Warnick and Lease 30 days each in the County Jail.

At the hearing yesterday afternoon the trio waived trial by jury and pleaded not guilty. They testified they had been drinking Saturday night prior to the incident and didn't remember fully what had happened leading up to and including the fracas.

Before passing sentence after Magistrate Mason had found the three men guilty, he said "drinking and being drunk was no defense or excuse" and that the nature of the charges were very serious.

Magistrate Mason also cited Shook's record of similar arrests before sentencing him to 90 days, and told the trio they could have been sentenced to a maximum of three years in the House of Correction. The offense was the first for Warnick and Lease.

The incident started when Sgt. Clarence Roby and Officer Royce Clayton went to investigate a disturbance in the doorway of a Liberty Street restaurant. Officer Clayton questioned the trio about a broken bottle on the sidewalk and this touched off the fight.

Officer Clayton who was kicked in the face and neck during the battle and Sgt. Roby bore the brunt of the fight. Officer Joseph F. Harvey was also struck in the mouth.

Several other policemen arrived at the scene, broke up the brawl and took the trio to the City Jail where they were held until yesterday's hearing.

VA Reports Big Savings

During the past four years, the Veterans Administration has saved and returned to the United States Treasury, a total of $15,000,000, according to information received at the local VA office in the Post Office Building.

The savings was effected, officials say, through the establishment of a revolving supply fund and intense "cost consciousness" drive, which enabled VA to hold supply costs at 1952-53 levels, in spite of increased costs and a 14 per cent rise in veterans' medical care.

Reduced warehouse inventories and a corresponding increase in supply turnover were elements in the savings. Another factor was the reduction of "lead time," the period between the order and delivery of materials.

VA returned $4,000,000 of the $15,000,000 to the treasury in the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1957. Another million dollars is expected to be saved and returned within the next three months, officials advise.

Cumberland Bank Debits Increase

Debits to demand deposit accounts of Cumberland banks were up during May, according to the Monthly Review of the Fifth Federal Reserve District.

Debits here totaled $31,241,000 during May, up from last May's $28,620,000.

The five-month debits here totaled $144,998,000, up sharply from 1956's $132,517,000.

Local Library Seeks $37,679 In City Fund

$10,000 McKaig Donation Cited

The Cumberland Free Public Library is seeking $37,679 or one dollar for every man, woman and child within the city limits, from the city for operating expenses during the new fiscal year which started July 1.

While making this request of the Mayor and City Council yesterday morning, Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, reported that the library had received a Christmas gift last December 27 in the form of a $10,000 check for the book fund from W. Wallace McKaig, local industrialist. That money can be used only for the purchase of books.

Last year, the library made a similar request for funds from the city but only $28,000 was included in the city budget. The previous year, the library budget was $26,000.

Miss Walsh reported yesterday that the library circulation for the past fiscal year totaled 233,405 books an all-time high. The library now has 59,709 books, which also is a record.

Miss Walsh stressed the need for repairs to the present heating system of the building which has been in use for many years.

She said the furnace, utilized for approximately a half century, is constantly in need of repair. She also pointed out the necessity for more space as the shelves of the library are crowded. There is need for another trained worker at the library, Miss Walsh added.
